

WORK AND HEALTH GRADUATE CERTIFICATE TRAINEESHIP

POTENTIAL FUNDING OPPORTUNITY AVAILABLE

APPLY FOR AN INTERDISCIPLINARY WORKER HEALTH AND SAFETY TRAINEESHIP

- » Gain knowledge and skills to address adverse employment and working conditions.
- » Learn methods to protect and promote health among workers.
- » Explore how contexts of work influence the health and well-being of populations.
- » Integrate occupational health expertise into your own research, practice or career.

PROGRAM ELIGIBILITY

- » UW graduate and professional students and professionals (non-degree students) across disciplines who hold bachelor's degrees

Apply today at:

<https://nursing.uw.edu/academics/grad-certificates/apeoh>

NORTHWEST CENTER FOR OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

Please note you will fill out the Advanced Practice Environmental and Occupational Health Certificate application to apply to the traineeship.

APPLICATIONS DUE

- » OCTOBER 15 TO BEGIN IN WINTER
- » JANUARY 15 TO BEGIN IN SPRING
- » MAY 1 TO BEGIN IN AUTUMN

Interested?

Scan the QR code
below for more info:

The traineeship is able to offer a quarter of in-state tuition to some applicants, distributed in the quarter of their capstone project.

To qualify for the scholarship, applicants must be eligible to receive federal funding.