Invitation to graduate students to help shape the future of graduate student handbooks

Graduate Student Handbook Listening Sessions with Graduate School Dean Joy Williamson-Lott

Share your experiences, ideas and feedback on how graduate programs can better support you via your graduate student handbooks. Your perspective is essential to improving these resources.

I want to hear what works well in your program's handbook, what information may be missing or unclear, and what changes would make it more useful to you and your fellow students.

Before attending, please take a few minutes to review your program's graduate student handbook.
